The quartette was a very pretty one,
but lacked animation somewhat.

Willie Zilch, for a young amateur, plays
very well, but at times is not careful eneugh to play up to pitch, otherwise his playing is very good.

Of Prof. Ebeling we continue our words of praise for his sympathetic, clean and tasteful piano playing, which proved that the artistic part has not been sacrificed to the technical, combining both in an eminent degree.

Mrs. Sheib certainly has had a good Mrs. Shello certainly has had a good schooling as a vocalist and musician, and though, as observed before, she had not full control of her powers owing to hoarseness, it evidenced her excellent method that permitted such difficult selections to be sung under the circumstances.

Miss Clifton again charmed her hearers with her pretty voice, which har been the talk of the town since she has been one of Mrs. Shell's nunls.

with her pretty voice, which has been one to take of the town since she has been one of Mrs. Sheib's pupils.

Prof. Ebeling is as delightful as a violinita she is a pianist, and his two selections were most delightful.

Mrs. Bown was set down to sing, but still being hoarse, her inumber was taken by Miss A.V. Hupp, who sang again, with the violin obligatos of Prof. Vaas, the Walts Song she sang before, even better than on the previous occasion.

Miss Ella Lewis looked well in costume as a "Flower Girl," and though a little nervous at first, acquitted herself very creditably.

A number, to a great extent unintelligible to the most of the audience, was the Duo, by Mrs. Sheib and Mr. Donel, of which those familiar therewith speak in the highest terms, and even we, who do not pretend to thorough musical culture, were delighted with parts thereof.

The Toy Symphony was as interesting and pleasing as anything we ever witness.

The Toy Symphony was as interesting

was afforded the audience.

As a whole, these two entertainments were decidedly of the best of the season, and Mrs. Sheib's ability as one of our foremost professional musicians, has received most unqualified endorsement.

A pleasant interlude before the Symphony, was Prof. Harvey's reading and recitation, which was received with such pleasure as to recall him. Prof Harvey is a reader of ability, graceful in gesture and of pleasant address.
